Frank Sinatra May Lose Nevada Gaming License

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — Frank Sinatra, the gangling singer who branched out as an actor, businessman and gambling impresario, has been threatened with loss of his Nevada gaming license. He is accused of allegedly allowing "one of (America's) crime overlords" to stay on the premises of the Cal-Neva gambling lodge.

Sinatra, in New York Wednesday night, was not available for comment.

The Nevada Gaming Control Board said Sinatra's guest at the showman's Lake Tahoe casino on the California-Nevada state line was Sam Giancana.

A five-point complaint submitted to the State Gaming Commission in Carson City Wednesday described Giancana, 51, of Oak Park, Ill., as "one of the 12 overlords of American crime." On Aug. 6 the Justice Department said Giancana was one of the rulers of the "Casa Nostra — Our Thing" crime syndicate.

Grounds For Revocation
Nevada keeps a "Black Book" that currently lists 11 persons, one of them Giancana, as persona non grata. Those listed are banned from any Nevada gaming establishment. Knowingly permitting one of them on the premises is grounds for license revocation, though it is not a criminal offense.

The gaming board's complaint charges Sinatra knowingly played host to Giancana at Cal-Neva, located about 20 miles from Carson City, between last July 17 and July 28. Specifically he is charged with allowing Giancana to stay in one of the chalets adjoining the casino.

The complaint also charges a Sinatra representative, Paul d'Amato with attempting to bribe two state gaming agents who were "performing their official duties of verifying the gross win at the gaming tables at Cal-Neva lodge."

The complaint did not elaborate.

Further, Edward Olsen, gaming board chairman, said "Sinatra

Democrats Favor Romney Tax Plan But GOP Is Wary

By BOB VOGES
LANSING (AP) — Democrats gave a promise of support—with reservations — to Gov. George Romney's tax reform program today while some Republicans openly were rebelling.
The Republican legislative leadership, however, expressed confidence that some kind of a tax reform program could be passed.
Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski announced the Democratic Party line on the program following a meeting with members of the all-Democratic Administrative Board, House and Senate party leaders and State Chairman Zolton Ferry.

"Gov. Romney has presented a well-rounded program for tax reform which we believe generally deserves the support of the legislature," the Democratic statement said.
The Democrats said they had serious reservations on two major points—the proposed local option income tax and the lien on the property of senior citizens.

Three Tax Levels

"The local option income tax will have the effect of giving too many of our citizens three levels of income tax — local, state and federal," the statement said.

House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingsford, and Sen. Stanley Thayer, R-Ann Arbor, the Senate Republican leader, both said they thought some kind of tax reform program could win passage.

"We'll take a good look at it and I'm hopeful that we'll put together a major tax reform program that will contain many of the points the governor is stressing," said Green.

If it is impossible to pass the income tax, Green said, it should be possible to find other areas of tax reform.

Thayer said he thought the program should get good support from the business community as an aid to the state's economic development.

He predicted there will be some controversial areas—such as the city-local income tax and the real property tax relief proposals.

Know More Later

"I wouldn't make any prediction at this time on the support for the program in the Senate," he said. "We will know more after tax hearings are held around the state."

One of those conducting the hearings will be Sen. Clyde Geerlings, R-Holland, chairman of the Senate Taxation Committee.

Polio Outbreak In State Feared

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's Health Department today announced that oral polio vaccine is being flown to Grand Rapids "in an effort to head off what could develop into a possible outbreak of the disease."

Dr. Albert Heustis, health commissioner, said three clinically diagnosed cases of polio had been discovered in children under three years old between Aug. 8 and Aug. 28.

The department's announcement said there is concern because the disease centered in the low economic, central area of Grand Rapids. Immunization levels there are the lowest in the city, the department said.

Under the bill introduced Wednesday, the bridge would be operated as a freeway for the purpose of stimulating the economy of the state.

Federal Takeover Of Big Mac Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Harold M. Ryan, D-Mich., has introduced a bill which would authorize the federal government to buy the Mackinac Bridge connecting Michigan's Lower and Upper Peninsulas.

Under the bill introduced Wednesday, the bridge would be operated as a freeway for the purpose of stimulating the economy of the state.

Ryan said that by transferring the bridge to the federal government, residents of the state and tourists would save millions of dollars annually. Ryan said that Mackinac Bridge Authority statistics show about six million persons cross the bridge each year.

"At present, a motorist pays $3.75 for a car going one way and $7.50 for a round trip," Ryan said.

"If that heavy charge were eliminated more tourists would be attracted to the Upper Peninsula."

Ryan said the project would cost about $100 million, with the federal government's share totaling about $80 million and the state's share $20 million.

The bridge, which opened in 1957, was financed through the sale to the public of $100 million in bonds. It connects with a federal highway, Interstate 75, which is separated by the Straits of Mackinac.

Birmingham For Private Schools

By DON MCKEE
Associated Press Staff Writer

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A major anti-integration demonstration erupted at Murphy High School in Mobile this morning, breaking the relative calm on the Alabama school front.

Residents in the area of the big Mobile high school said that pupils massed on the campus and began chanting, "Two, four six, eight. We don't want to integrate."

Police called for fire trucks. Newsmen were barred from the area.

It was the first major outbreak at Mobile since two Negroes started attending classes in Murphy Tuesday.

In Birmingham, there were no incidents when five Negroes resumed classes at three previously white schools. A caravan of cars carrying anti-integrationists drove back and forth in front of West End High School where a thousand white pupils have been staging a boycott. Persons in the cars waved Confederate banners, but the demonstration was peaceful.

Confederate Flags

A slim, gray-haired teacher broke up a potential demonstration at a Birmingham high school not affected by the desegregation. Approximately 60 pupils gathered on a street corner across from Phillips High School and started waving Confederate flags and placards. Suddenly the teacher appeared and snatched the banners, then marched the pupils into the school.

School officials in Birmingham were seeking to curb a wholesale boycott by white pupils. There was talk of a private school movement.

In the wake of a school board warning against truancy, several thousand white persons jammed an auto race track Wednesday night to protest integration and plan for private schools.

The school board earlier warned that parents could be prosecuted for keeping children out of school.

More than 1,000 white pupils boycotted West End High in Birmingham as two Negroes went to classes for the second day. Wednesday night's rally for private schools was organized by West End white parents.

In most other desegregated schools, attendance was nearly normal and there was little disorder.

A rock smashed into a car carrying the two Negro pupils home from West End, breaking a window. But no one was hurt. The racial scene was generally peaceful at eight other desegregated

3 1/2 Pct Corporate Profits Levy Also Asked In Michigan

By RICHARD PYLE

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney today gave the legislature a 12-point tax reform program built around personal and corporate income taxes and designed for equity and economic growth.

His plan, Romney told the legislature in a 6,000-word special message, will provide "jobs and justice" by extensive overhauling of the state's fiscal structure.

The Romney program combines broad changes in taxes at the state level — repeal of some existing levies and creation of new one — with a series of local options to ease the property tax burden at the local level.

"It is a program based on all individuals and all businesses paying taxes equally," declared the governor. "It is based admittedly and unashamedly upon the biblical principle of tithing, where everyone contributes his percentage according to his means.

"It is equality of taxation. It is tax justice for all."

Key elements in the governor's plan are a 2 per cent personal income tax, a 3 1/2 per cent corporation profits tax and a 5 1/2 per cent income tax on financial institutions that together will bring in an estimated $306 million per year.

By furnishing a broad new source of revenue, these taxes would offset the loss of an estimated $305.5 million through abolition or reduction of present taxes, primarily on business.

The program calls for no overall tax increase, but is designed to meet state needs at approximately the present level of $385 million in revenue.

Lessen Slack

Both the personal and corporate income taxes would be based on the federal system.

The personal income tax would provide for $600 deductions for dependents and other standard exemptions.

Whereas Swainson proposed a 3 1/2 per cent personal income tax, with 1/2 per cent returned to local units, Romney's program calls for a 2 per cent statewide tax and allows for a local option income tax for cities of another 1 per cent.

Swainson suggested a corporate profits tax equal to his personal tax (3 1/2 per cent) with financial institutions paying 5 per cent. Romney also proposes a 3 1/2 per cent corporate levy, but would impose a 5 1/2 per cent tax on financial firms.

Differences in the programs cover the intangibles tax, which Romney would repeal but for which Swainson made no provision, and the franchise tax on business, from which Romney would exempt new businesses for their first two years of operation.

Swainson's program would have brought in additional revenue to the state immediately. Romney's proposals are expected to keep total state revenues at about current levels.

The plan, Romney said, would wipe out "the three basic deficiencies" of the state's tax structure — inequity for low income families, stifling of job-creating activity and hamstringing of local government.

In addition to the income taxes, Romney proposed easing the school burden on property taxes by $93 million with a "tax credit" system in which property owners would pay 80 per cent and the state would reimburse the district for the other 20 per cent.

This shift, he said, would benefit individuals and businesses, equally, with the tax relief on the latter providing inducement for job-creating activity.

The "integrated program of total tax reform" will furnish over $90 million in direct tax relief to Michigan consumers, Romney said.

Low income families (under $4,500) would see the percentage of income going for taxes reduced from 7.3 per cent to 6.3 per cent.

Repeal of the business activities tax (BAT) at a loss to the state of $78 million.

Repeal of the intangibles tax with local government's share to be reimbursed by the state, an overall loss of $35 million.

A two-year exemption for new businesses from the corporation franchise tax.

Retention by Michigan breweries of up to one-half of what they collect from the state's two-cents per bottle beer tax, a loss of $1.5 million.

Homestead property tax exemption for persons over 65 with taxable income of $2,000 or less and whose home is assessed under state equalized valuation at $5,000 or less, the state to reimburse local governments for tax losses up to $200 per home.

Recover From Estate

The total loss from this exemption is estimated at $6 million, but under a "lien clause," the state could recover the exempted taxes from the estate, if possible, when the property owner died.

The last proposal in Romney's

F. H. McGraw & Co., today announced sale of three Upper Peninsula pipe line companies to Growth Capital, Inc., of Cleveland, Ohio.

The companies are National Pipe Line Co., National Automatic Pipe Line Operators, Inc., and Northern Michigan Pipe Line, Inc.

The first two companies own and operate the 43 mile 6 inch pipe line that moves jet fuel from the Holly Corp., terminal on Little Bay de Noc at Bay View, an Escanaba suburb, to K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base near Marquette, and the third firm owns the 35 mile pipe line that moves jet fuel from the Northwestern Oil Co. terminal on the Straits of Mackinac at St. Ignace to Kincheloe Air Force Base near Sault Ste. Marie.

The Escanaba-Sawyer AFB line construction started in July, 1962 and the line has been operating since December, 1962. Construction started on the St. Ignace-Kincheloe line in September, 1962 and it has been operating since February of this year.

Operations of the lines are ex-

Military Resents Civilians' Rule Of Defense Plans

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many military professionals smart under what they consider an excessive influence of civilian "whiz-kid" officials at the Pentagon. But these civilians, too, have met frustrations.

"The fact is, this is a one-man show," said one informed authority who rates himself neutral in the military-vs-civilian feud.

"It's run by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara—he makes up his own mind and makes the decisions."

Like some military leaders, the civilian operations analysts, theoreticians and experts are known to have chafed because McNamara would not go along with certain of their ideas.

But while rebuffs suffered by the services often come into the open, the thwarting of some of the pet proposals of the "whiz kids" generally is known only to the inner circle of defense leaders.

It is reliably reported, for example, that some of the civilian thinkers some time ago advanced the idea of withdrawing all nuclear battlefield weapons from Western Europe to reduce the hazard of accidental atomic exchange.

According to knowledgeable sources, the Joint Chiefs of Staff warned that such a move could mean the end of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The proposal got no further.

Many of these men, mostly unknown to the general public, carry Ph.D. degrees and other academic laurels. A number of them are relatively young—hence the term "whiz kids" is applied to them by critics and admirers alike.

Many officers feel strongly there is a place for the civilian "brain" who analyzes the defense problems scientifically and mathematically—but the believe such analysts should be servants, rather than masters, of the seasoned military professionals.

Their gripe is that the analysts who have achieved stature under McNamara dabble in military strategy and weapons questions which, the military professionals contend, they lack the experience and competence to handle.

There is no doubt that McNamara—a "facts and figures man" gave the analysts greater prominence than they ever had enjoyed before in the defense setup.

But associates of the secretary insist he does not buy what the analysts sell without weighing their arguments against those of the military, and that the military positions do not get short shrift.

The art of operations analysts has become more sophisticated with the advent of improved computers and other advanced tools. One major criticism voiced by military men is that all problems cannot be reduced to mathematical equations and computer treatment.

These uniformed critics — and there are some key civilians who share their views — contend the operations analysts are so bemused by what they think is rational and logical that they do not give due consideration to the possibility of illogical action by the Soviets.

Ignore Human Factors

Another criticism leveled at the civilian analysts is that they take slight account of human factors.

Who are the "whiz kids"? Here are the thumbnail sketches of a few of the most influential:

Dr. Alain C. Enthoven, 33, a native of Seattle; Rhodes scholar; holder of Ph.D. in economics from MIT; slim, handsome product of Rand Corp., a "think factory" where he worked on strategic air warfare studies; prime mover in fostering "spare the cities" policy which envisions nuclear exchanges aimed at military complexes and bases rather than populations.

Henry S. Rowen, 37, a Bostonian, MIT graduate, did graduate work at Oxford and another product of Rand. Tall, sandy-haired, studious-looking has had great impact in formulating limited and conventional war policies.

Road Job Bids Asked By State

Three highway improvement projects in the Upper Peninsula are being planned by the State Highway Department and bids will be opened in Michigan Tech's Union Building at Houghton at 11 a. m. Oct. 4.

The projects by counties are: Marquette — Resurfacing and construction of a guard rail on U. S. 41 and M 28 from Hampton St. to the south city limits in the city of Marquette, also bituminous widening on the same routes at the State Prison barracks. To be completed June 30, 1964.

Keweenaw — Intersection improvement on U. S. 41 at intersection with Cliffs Drive one mile north of the Houghton-Keweenaw County line, to be completed Sept. 30, 1964.

Gogebic — Construction of three bridges on relocated U. S. 2 over Tenderfoot Creek, Cisco Branch of the Ontonagon River, and over the middle branch of the Ontonagon. Completion date Dec. 1, 1964.

Catholic Charity Spending In Year Was $7.5 Million

The annual meeting of Catholic Charities of Michigan on Monday in Lansing received the annual report of affiliated agencies and institutions showing an ever increasing demand for services and a 10 per cent growth in the services rendered, which received a total dollar volume in 1962 of $7½ million.

Executive Director William T. Downs was authorized to develop public relations programs jointly with affiliated agencies and institutions, and to further explore avenues of cooperation with other voluntary agencies and with the State Department of Social Welfare.

The Board was advised of the appointment of a Planning and Research Advisory Committee and after discussion Msgr. John D. Slowe was authorized to communicate a direction to this committee to conduct planning and research efforts related to institutional programs for children and providing facilities for unmarried mothers.

Camping Popular At Pioneer Park

Pioneer Trail Park served a total of 5,518 campers this season from 39 states, seven Canadian provinces and one European country, it has been reported to the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce.

Camp permits issued totaled 1,440 for the period May 31 through Sept. 5 and the report indicated a growing popularity of the campground between Escanaba and Gladstone along bank of the Escanaba River.

The Pioneer Trail Park campground is operated and maintained under the supervision of Delta County Road Commission and was opened to the public last year. It is equipped with 50 lots, and electricity is available at each site without extra charge.

"Literally hundreds of comments were received on the natural beauty of the park," it was reported. "A number of campers from 1962 returned and many this summer were already making plans to return next summer."

The busiest week was the period from August 12 through 19, probably due to the U. P. State Fair. Most of the tourists camped in tents (501) with 473 trailers next and 283 campers third.

A break-down of camp registrations by states reveals that majority of the tourists (479) came from Michigan, followed by Wisconsin with 283 and Minnesota in third place with 144. Surprisingly, fourth place so far as volume came from was a Canadian province—109 from Ontario.

Illinois was represented by 77 registrations, Indiana 53, Ohio 48, Iowa 30, California 26, Florida 22, and New York 19. There were campers from each of the seven Canadian provinces. The one European country was Germany with one registration.

Lofquist Charged In Hit-Run Death

James Lofquist, 29, of Rte. 1, Bark River, waived examination and was bound over to the October term of Delta County Circuit Court, when arraigned before Justice A. J. Mortier on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident where someone was injured or had died.

Lofquist faced the charge in connection with the hit-run accident last Friday evening in which Edmond J. Anderson, 18, of Rte. 1, Bark River, died from injuries sustained when he was struck by the Lofquist car while riding a bicycle along M 35 about two miles south of the Ford River bridge.

Buick Stresses Better Engines

By CHARLES C. CAIN
Associated Press Auto Writer

FLINT (AP)—Buick Division of General Motors stressed engine and transmission improvements as it previewed its 1964 line for more than 200 newsmen here today.

The transmissions, the Super Turbine 300 and the Super Turbine 400, were described by Buick's general manager, E. D. Rollert, as the "greatest advances we've ever made in the field of automatic transmissions."

The new Buick line includes three new engines plus a completely new special series with a larger passenger compartment.

One of the engines is a 425-cubic inch V-8 with two four-barrel carburetors. It is an option on the Wildcat, Electra 225 and Riviera models.

The second new engine is a 225-cubic inch V-6 for the Special. It is an option on the 198 of last year. The third new engine is a 300-cubic inch lightweight alumi-

Free Chest X-Ray Clinic Scheduled

Residents of Delta and Menominee counties will have an opportunity to have free chest x-rays and blood sugar screening Oct. 1 through 25.

The next unit for this type of screening will not be here until 1965 and everyone should take advantage of this visit to make sure he or she is free of diabetes and all types of lung, heart, bone and blood vessel disease that shows up on x-rays, said Dr. Mary Cretens, District Health director.

This year the screening is conducted mainly for the group over 30 years of age. Those who are younger and who far a special reason, such as being a close relative of a diabetic or who need certification as a food handler, should get a permit slip from the Health Department. This permit slip will entitle anyone to get either of the available tests.

"The results of the x-ray is reported directly to the person x-rayed. The results of the diabetes screening are relayed only when the results warrant a further study by the family physician," said Dr. Cretens.

The survey is sponsored by the Delta-Menominee District Health Department and the Michigan Department of Health. It is supported also by the Medical Societies of Delta and Menominee Counties, the Michigan Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Assn., the Michigan Diabetes Detection Project and the many volunteer workers from both counties.

Archbishop Says He Wasn't Denied

NEW YORK (AP)—Archbishop Pierre Martin Ngo Dinh Thuc, brother of South Viet Nam's president, has denied reports by Vatican sources that a papal audience had been canceled because of the explosive political situation in his country.

When the Roman Catholic prelate arrived at Idlewild Airport Wednesday, he told newsmen: "I did not request any audience. It has been scheduled to be held when I return to Rome."

The archbishop, 65, said he will return to Rome within the week and will be there for the Sept. 9 reopening of the Ecumenical Council.

Asked why the Vatican ordered him not to discuss Viet Nam politics, Archbishop Thuc replied with a smile, "They are afraid of you journalists."

He added that the ban was imposed "because it is not my duty to mention politics."

Casing The Election

There are many ways of looking at Monday's Escanaba Area School District election results. One, and perhaps the most realistic, is that the election was a success. Not fully, but partially.

The district is in better condition to meet its obligations as result of the election and that's a gain. The single gain was the consolidation (assumption by the whole new Escanaba Area District) of the old Cornell Township School District debt on its new 4-classroom school building.

This leaves only the former Ford River Township School District debt on its school building not assumed by the Escanaba Area District. Such assumption was proposed in Monday's election, but rejected by the voters, although this debt is much smaller than Cornell's.

Ford River voted for consolidation of its debt, but it failed elsewhere. Wells Township helped sink it with lopsided votes. Escanaba inconsistently voted in favor of assuming the debt, but not in raising taxes to pay it. Cornell did the same thing.

The inconsistency of paying off the debt of one school district and not another — although it would have taken only a half mill tax for two years — is obvious. But voters are often inconsistent; the problem is: What can be done about it?

The apparent answer is: More explanation.

The least acceptance of consolidation philosophy by any of the four units of the Escanaba Area School District is in Wells Township, as reflected by Monday's vote. It voted overwhelmingly against all five propositions in the election.

The Press asked Wells Township Supervisor Charles Sedenquist, a full time employee of the township, who described himself as a "rigid conservative," about his interpretation of the voting. He said he believed that there was a lot of feeling that conditions were better under the Wells Township School system than they are now, and that if the township had gone its own way things would be as good as they are today. (The township didn't have a high school. It paid Escanaba tuition for its students.)

Sedenquist said that this feeling may not persist in another 4 or 5 years, but that it is prevalent today.

Sedenquist said Wells Township brought a great deal to the Area District — its buses, $20,000 in its sinking fund, its children and their state aids. He conceded that the program of the Escanaba Area Schools is superior to any that Wells might have established on its own — or that Escanaba might have established on its own. The large numbers of children in the consolidated district make possible school programming of an excellence not possible in a smaller district.

If Sedenquist has cased the situation accurately, there is need for educational work in Wells Township to show its citizens that they had the right idea when they voted for consolidation with Escanaba. They hadn't been paying for the capital outlay on the school buildings used by their tuition students in Escanaba and they solved their big high school problem by annexation in a way much more economical to them than they could have solved it by their own means. These means, by the way, are large. Wells Township has a larger assessed valuation behind each of its school children than the City of Escanaba or any other part of the Area District.

Wells is now a full fledged partner in an excellent school district which it voted to join. The people of the City of Escanaba never had a chance to vote on consolidation. (They might have voted it down.) Their board of education, in an enlightened and proper gesture, voted to extend an invitation to annex to the surrounding township school districts. It did this to share the benefits of Escanaba's School District, with its kindergarten through 12th grade program, (lacking in the annexing districts) with their suburban neighbors and to get the benefits for all of a large school district.

These benefits are now being realized, whether they're acknowledged or not. There seems to be an inclination to forget the benefits and to ignore the problems which consolidation has solved.

What has happened indicates that our board of education should drop elections for a while and devote itself to public explanation of the school program. When the proportionate votes of the city and of Wells Township are compared it is clear that their people think differently of the issues. Why?

Sedenquist volunteered the further prediction that the schools' financial problems would be enlarged if the Sept. 30 vote fails to approve the new county jail. If it isn't built, the old one will be closed by the state and Delta will board out its prisoners in Menominee, Manistique or elsewhere and hire some more sheriff officers to transport them back and forth for court appearances, etc. This will raise county expenses and the county will ask a bigger share of the tax rate at allocation time. If it gets it, there'll be less for the schools.

Sedenquist, who thinks most local political issue decisions are made in industrial plant coffee break talk, says the grapevine is reporting that the jail tax is headed for a clobbering. It's a tax of 2 mills for one year. It'll raise more than $150,000 to match the $177,000 grant that the Accelerated Public Works program has made for the project. If the tax isn't voted, Delta County will pay its federal taxes just the same anyway, only they'll be sent to Arkansas or some other place to build a jail at our expense.

There are very few homesteads in Sedenquist's township assessed for more than $5,000. That means that the jail, with the federal government paying for half of it, will cost a taxpayer not more than $10. That's a bargain. Sedenquist is telling his Wells Township constituents to vote for it as an economy. "It all pays for the building," he says "no interest. It's a completely cash deal."

Idle Talk

Auditor General Billie Farnum, whose job will be abolished next year by the new Constitution which he fought, suddenly has become the apostle of a secondhand idea in new wrappings and wants an elective "watchdog" to oversee the performance of others in Michigan government and "bark" when he catches transgressors.

The Detroit News says it can understand Farnum's unease over his approaching discard, but cannot agree with him.

All that Michigan needs is judicious use of the ballot to avoid electing officials who need watching, suggests the News, which points archly to the fact that state officials who might need watching are most of them members of Farnum's party.

Goldwater isn't even a presidential candidate yet, according to

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—(NEA)— This is going to be a piece about fall tourism and the beauties of nature in autumn.

President Kennedy is going to travel through Pennsylvania and nine western states Sept. 25-29.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York is visiting five states in early September prior to a swing through Europe Sept. 24-30. Mrs. Rockefeller II is going with him.

Sen. Barry Goldwater so far has accepted invitations to deliver lectures in 10 states—and there may be more later.

Any evil thoughts that there are political implications to all this should be promptly scrubbed from the mind. Because these three tourists say they are non-political tours. The remote fact that there is a presidential election in 1964 is said to be purely coincidental. September and October are simply the perfect months for vacationing.

Flying weather is perfect most days, before the fogs of November and the snows of December set in. And there's a nip in the air that makes every patriotic public official want to get out and inspect the crops after the fall harvest. That's all there is to it, gentle readers.

Why, President Kennedy himself says he is just going out to check up on conservation and reclamation and the recreational facilities behind power dams and government-made lakes.

The White House announcement said the President would inspect national parks, seashores, wilderness areas. So you can see this is just a nature lover's holiday. Anything to get out of Washington for a breath of fresh air.

Anyone who thinks that what the President would really like to conserve and reclaim are six western states he lost in 1960—North Dakota with four electoral votes, Montana four, Wyoming three, Utah four, Oregon six, and California 22 is a meanie.

Goldwater isn't even a presidential candidate yet, according to him. The Draft Goldwater headquarters in Washington says it is doing nothing to promote his tour or get out the crowds. They still aren't speaking to each other. Nature lover Goldwater is just going to inspect the grass roots.

Two of his appearances will be before Republican women—who are great gardeners—in Chicago Sept. 11 and San Diego Oct. 3.

Four of his appearances will be to help the Republicans raise funds in Pennsylvania—Gov. William W. Scranton, a potential rival, invited him—Oklahoma, New Jersey and Massachusetts. Goldwater will visit JFK's home town of Boston Oct. 16 to show how much he loves him.

In New York, Goldwater will be fall guy Sept. 17 at a Buffalo Circus Saints and Sinners affair, which is just for fun. In New York City he will attend a Financial World dinner Oct. 31, which is strictly business. And he wouldn't think of trying to take delegates away from Gov. Rockefeller. Or would he?

Goldwater and Rockefeller will both speak at the Western Republican Rally in Eugene, Ore. Oct. 12. They will speak at different times in different halls so nobody will get the cross idea of comparing the two men or their views. Also, Gov. Mark Hatfield is a GOP presidential nominee possibility and neither Rockefeller nor Goldwater want to undercut Oregon's own favorite son. Or would they?

Rockefeller's real interest is said to be the Republican governors' conference in Denver Sept. 14. His other dates are Huntington, W. Va., Sept. 21, and Roanoke, Va., the next day.

Of course, there might be some real political significance to Rockefeller's European trip. Vice President Lyndon Johnson is in Europe now, preparing the ground for his possible candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1968. Rocky can't afford to let Lyndon get ahead of him there, as the two might be rival candidates five years from now. But as for 1964—perish the naughty thought.

Huge College Increase Seen

EAST LANSING (AP) — College officials in Michigan foresee a 43,000 rise in enrollment by 1965, with the bulk of the increase at public institutions, a study committee on higher education was told Tuesday.

The enrollment boost will require a $361.6 million expenditure on classrooms, laboratories and libraries at public and private institutions, the committee was told.

The report was prepared by the Michigan Coordinating Council for Public Higher Education, which represents the governing boards and presidents of member institutions.

PLENTY OF ROOM?

The other day I read in the Press that there was plenty of room in the schools for everyone.

Today I brought my son to begin school in kindergarten. There were two kindergarten rooms, both filled to capacity and then some. From my observation, I disagree that there is plenty of room.

If the person or persons responsible would take a trip around the class rooms, the crowded conditions would be apparent. I still say we need more schools and better facilities.

Mrs. Nicholas Chapekis

Editor's Note: Not the Press, but an advertisement in the Press of the Delta County Taxpayers Association opposing a sinking fund to build elementary schools, stated: "Since there is ample room for students in our present buildings for several years..."

THANK YOU

To the people of Escanaba:

We wish to take this means of thanking the people of Escanaba for the wonderful reception and stay we had in your city on Friday and Saturday, July 25 and 26, for the District Little League tournament.

We would like to thank especially those people who provided homes for our boys and the transportation to and from the ball park. We know this will be an experience our boys will never forget. We also wish to thank the officers, directors of Escanaba's Little League, and others responsible for the banquet held in your new high school. Thanks to the mayor of Escanaba for his talk. We appreciate and know the effort, planning, and expense that goes into a venture of this sort and we were truly very happy to be a part of it. Thank you again folks of Escanaba.

Lunts Guide To Magic TV Hour

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Sometimes, numbed perhaps by overuses of cliché comedy and trivial plots galloping to a predictable climax, we forget that television can be pure enchantment.

Wednesday night, in premier broadcast of a new CBS series, the Roots of Freedom, the television became a magic carpet, flying us through time and space back 2,400 years to a Greek hillside where the theater was born.

With Alfred Lunt as guide and entertaining lecturer and Lynn Fontanne helping out, the living audiences were actually seated in the ruins of the theater of Dionysus. There on the old broken stones, a cast of talented performers, including Miss Fontanne, Alfred Drake and Donald Madden, enacted short scenes from great plays which were milestones in theater development.

Man vs. Gods

First, to illustrate the very earliest Greek theme — man against the gods—there was a portion from Aeschylus' "Prometheus Bound." Sophocles' "Antigone" came next to show a more sophisticated concern for man's struggle against man. And finally, after Miss Fontanne had admonished parents to ship the children off to bed came a morally risqué comedy scene from Aristophanes' "Lysistrata," obviously the father of all bedroom farce.

It was an absorbing adult hour and proved incidentally that an educationally program doesn't have to be dull.

Tigress Booked

Phil Silvers was the guest star on Monday night's CBS "I've Got a Secret." He mentioned, incidentally, his new CBS series, "The Phil Silvers Show" and its premiere date.

Gary Lockwood was a guest on Wednesday morning's NBC "Today" show. He mentioned, incidentally, his new NBC series, "The Lieutenant," and its premiere date.

It's going to be "Sophia Loren in Rome" after October's "Elizabeth Taylor in London," but although the projected special has a sponsor, it has not yet settled on a network. ABC has nailed Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, the controversial sister-in-law of the president of South Viet Nam, for her initial American television appearance—on a Sunday "Issues and Answers" in October. The big new change in "College Bowl" when it moves from CBS to NBC Sept. 22 will be the addition of color.

Visitor

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, powerful first lady of South Viet Nam, says she will visit the United States in mid-October but has no plans to attend the U.N. General Assembly session as reported earlier.

Faded Old 'Ghost Town' Now Busy Historic Site

By ROBERT D. PEHLKE
Pehlke is assistant professor of metallurgical engineering, University of Michigan, and is technical assistant to the Fayette State Park program. The article by Pehlke was published in the Journal of Metals.

Fayette, Michigan, once the site of a busy charcoal iron smelter boasting two stacks and later a ghost town, is to become a State Historic Site. The Michigan State Conservation Commission has established a State Park at the site and plans to preserve the smelter ruins, and restore the townsite, thus providing an opportunity to visit the industrial and cultural past of Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Following the construction of a railroad and shipping dock facilities at Escanaba in 1863, considerable interest was aroused in the construction of a primary smelting operation for the production of pig iron in the area. The site at Fayette on Big Bay de Noc was a natural one for such an operation. The Garden Peninsula contained large acreages of hardwood and natural limestone cliffs, and was within easy shipping distance across the bay from the ore docks at Escanaba.

In 1867, the Jackson Iron Co. with general offices in Cleveland, Ohio, acquired approximately 16,000 acres of land on the east side of Big Bay de Noc. The site selected had a natural sheltered harbor with a depth of 16 to 40 ft, affording protection from the heavy storms on Lake Michigan. The proposed operation was one in which the hardwood on the peninsula would be converted to charcoal for use as fuel in smelting Jackson Iron Mine ores shipped across the bay in scows from Escanaba. The natural limestone cliffs in the area would supply flux for the operation, and the pig iron produced would be shipped by water to the steelmaking operations in the Lower Great Lakes regions.

Hot Blast Furnaces

Construction on the first stack was initiated in May of 1867, and the first pig iron was produced in December of that year. By December of 1868, 4169 tons of metal had been produced in the first stack. During the nine months of operation in 1869, the No. 1 stack produced almost 4200 tons of iron, averaging approximately 100 tons per week including relining time. Construction on the second stack was initiated in the summer of 1869, and completed in early 1870. The furnaces were advanced for this period, utilizing hot-blast stoves to pre-heat the air blown into the furnace resulting in higher temperature and more efficient operation of the furnace.

The furnaces were hot-blast, charcoal-fired furnaces with an average daily production ranging from 17 to 30 tons. The ore, charcoal, and limestone were charged through the tunnel heads at the top of the stacks. The material was raised to this height on an elevator which stood between the two stacks. The charge used to produce one ton of pig iron averaged: 94 bushels of charcoal, 3500 pounds of ore, 125 pounds of limestone, and 35 pounds of clay.

Heated air was delivered from the blast furnace stoves to each furnace through three tuyere nozzles near the bottom of the hearth area. The blast was supplied to the furnaces by two blast machines which consisted of blowing cylinders driven by 100-hp. steam engines. Several times a day the iron was drawn off through the iron-notch and ran into molds laid in the sand floor of the cast house. The smelting operation was continuous and went on until the fire brick lining of the furnace burned out. The linings of the furnaces lasted several months.

The presence of stoves at the Fayette smelting operation was an advanced feature and an important factor in the production records which were set during its 25 year operating period. The temperatures reached in the blast ranged from 600 degrees to 750 degrees Fahrenheit.

The fuel used in the furnaces was charcoal, produced from hardwood which was cut on the company lands in the area. Initially, the charcoal was produced by piling up 25 to 30 cords of wood in 4-foot lengths, covering it with branches, wet leaves, and an overlay of earth about six inches thick, and burning with a deficiency of air. The average two-man crew cutting and piling wood produced about 4 cords in 10 hours. The charcoal yield from a cord of wood was about 50 bushels, approximately half the amount required to make 1 ton of iron. This method was very crude and wasteful, and eventually 11 stone kilns or beehive ovens with a capacity of 75 cords each were constructed in the area immediately adjacent to the furnace, and several others were constructed in the outlying forests.

A lime kiln for the production of burnt lime to be used for plaster and cement was constructed at the end of the row of charcoal kilns near the furnace. This lime kiln produced approximately 1500 barrels of lime per season, some of which was exported from Fayette.

The pig iron producing operation at Fayette, in addition to the furnaces and associated equipment, also utilized a cupola furnace for the production of small castings, a sawmill for cutting lumber, a wagon shop, a carpenter shop, blacksmith shop, stone shop, and all those supporting operations not only to carry out the smelting operation but also to supply the services required by a community of 500 people. The company owned a tugboat and a number of scows in addition to utilizing the capacity of several schooners. Locomotives were employed for the transport of materials in the furnace area.

A considerable number of fires, mishaps, and operating problems arose during the 25 years of production at Fayette. In addition to the normal repairs and furnace modifications which included increasing the height of the furnace stacks to permit more efficient operation, as well as modifying the shape of the No. 2 stack, considerable difficulties were encountered at various stages of the operation.

In June of 1871, a company scow loaded with ore developed tons. The operation diminished in the 1880's, and in 1892 pig iron production was halted. The total iron production for the furnaces at Fayette was 229,238 tons. The prices of pig iron over the years indicate why the operation was curtailed. In 1880, the price of pig iron produced by a charcoal furnace in Michigan was $29.95 per ton. In 1890, that price had dropped to $19.58 a ton, and in 1900, the price had dropped further to $16.95 per ton.

Fayette was a busy place back in the 1870's when this picture was taken. The smelters are in the background, and in the center of the photo is one of the locomotives which hauled charcoal and wood to the furnace town. Now only the masonry smelters and a few of the other structures remain standing.

A combination of the turn-down in the economy for charcoal iron, the consumption of the hardwood in the area, and particularly the development of the blast furnace operation using coke and producing a high-quality pig iron at a cheaper price than was possible with charcoal led to the abandonment of the charcoal iron process and the operation at Fayette.

The townsite and the ruins of the smelter at Fayette were established as a Michigan State Park in 1959. The town is located in Michigan's Upper Peninsula approximately 100 miles west of the Straits of Mackinac and 20 miles south of Highway 2 on the Garden Peninsula which extends down into Lake Michigan. In addition to the park facilities which include docking, camping grounds, and picnic areas near the sand beach south of the town, the smelter ruins and townsite are open to visitors. Several buildings have been partially restored at present, and it is planned to develop the entire townsite while preserving the smelter and charcoal kilns in their present state. The town opera house has been converted into a museum and boasts a number of relics which illustrate the living conditions, working conditions, and industrial technology of the day.

Park Place Hotel Sale Considered; It's Losing Money

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The Park Place Hotel, a Traverse City landmark from its founding in 1873 until its closing Sept. 1, may be purchased by Eugene B. Power of Ann Arbor, a regent of the University of Michigan.

Power, a former Traverse City resident, acknowledged here that he is negotiating to buy the hotel, in which he has owned stock since 1954.

"But, if I buy," he said, "I'll buy only the assets and not the corporation."

He refused to say whether he is alone in the deal, or whether any purchase price has been mentioned. He also refused to disclose any plans he may have for the 91-room, nine-story structure.

The hotel, the tallest building in northeast Lower Michigan, was losing money at the rate of $6,000 to $8,000 a month in the off-season, spokesmen said last month. They blamed competition with nearby motels and ski resorts.

Cargo Shifts

MUSKEGON (AP)—With a 17-degree list after a cargo shift, the German flag vessel Waldemar Peter was docked here today awaiting marine adjusters to determine the extent of damage and who would pay for it.

The ship, about 365 feet long, calls Rotterdam, The Netherlands, her home port but is under charter to the Hycar Lines.

McManiman Gets Furlong Answer On Doe Shooting

Robert J. Furlong has written what Detroit News outdoor writer James A. O. Crowe describes as "one of the best summations of the justification for any deer shooting we have ever seen."

It was in the form of a letter to Senator Charles O. McManiman (D-Houghton), chronic black cloud on the commission's horizon.

McManiman, bitter foe of antlerless deer hunting in the Upper Peninsula, at least, had written the commission that in permitting such hunting it was carrying on "with the attitude 'the public be damned.'"

"You have not presented conclusive evidence or explained to the people any true facts or true figures as to why we should have a doe season," he wrote.

In a 4½-page reply, Furlong said that "since large-scale antlerless deer hunting began in 1952, Michigan hunters have killed over 1,000,000 deer — 92,600 a year on the average."

"We believe this fact alone proves the program successful," he continued.

"It certainly establishes that controlled antlerless deer shooting does not ruin hunting. Frankly, we are puzzled as to why this fact is not apparent to those who say the deer herd is being exterminated."

Furlong, who was appointed to his present position in April, has spent most of his life in conservation and related work. He started his career as a conservation officer.

"We must face the sobering fact," he wrote to McManiman, "that the number of deer in Michigan does not depend on the decisions of the Conservation Commission or of the Legislature or on the whim of the deer hunters."

"It depends on the amount of deer food in the Michigan forests. If there were plenty of food, we could protect the does and fawns and the herd would increase."

"But there is NOT plenty of food. The winter range can carry only so many deer. The rest are surplus, and this surplus should be harvested or it will go down the drain."

"This year, we know that there is a huntable surplus of at least 35,000 deer in the Upper Peninsula."

"There are at least six times as many antlerless deer as bucks, so a legal kill of half bucks and half antlerless deer, many of which are males, cannot dangerously reduce the breeding herd."

The commission and its employees have made every effort to explain the need for the program for 30 years, Furlong wrote. These efforts included meetings with sportsmen, legislators, labor groups, farm groups and many others. Pamphlets and bulletins by the thousands have been distributed and newspapers, radio and television stations have been telling the story for years.

The commission's methods for estimating the number of deer have been checked and rechecked by professional statisticians and found sound. More than that, the sample checks have been rechecked with actual counts and found to be almost exactly correct.

On the basis of these estimates, Furlong said, there are 20 to 22 deer per square mile in the Upper Peninsula, and "hunters will harvest a little better than one buck per square mile this year and the antlerless quota will be 1.1 per square mile."

"So, senator," Furlong wrote, "in closing, let me assure you that neither the commission nor the department approach deer herd management or any other responsibility with a 'public be damned' attitude."

"Rather, we are conscientiously and in all honesty and sincerity trying to make the best possible decisions based on the most reliable information available in the interest of enlightened resource management."

Boating Is New Symbol Of Status

ANN ARBOR — The boat, a growing status symbol in modern living, promises to account for an increasing proportion of our national income, a University of Michigan economist observes.

The dramatic growth of the boating industry during the post-war period is attributable to a combination of factors, explains Ross J. Wilhelm, U-M assistant professor of business economics.

"First, the boat is a status symbol and as incomes have risen an increasing proportion of persons have acquired a boat. The second factor has been the growth in population since the end of World War II."

In the 1920s and the 1930s, when car ownership became widespread, the Sunday ride, weekend trip, summer vacation became important events for many families, Wilhelm notes.

Today the family boat has taken over many of the roles served by the car in the old days. According to one estimate, about one person in five in the U. S. took at least one trip or ride in a boat last year, spending about $2.5 billion, Wilhelm says. Since 1947 the number of boats has tripled over 7,400,000.

"And, just as the automobile stimulated investments in supplementary businesses so the boat is spawning a number of supporting types of business," he points out. An example: marinas have been increasing at an annual rate of over 100. There are 4,000 in the U. S. today.

"Boating, marinas and the supplementary businesses are rapidly becoming big business and they promise to account for a growing proportion of our national income over the coming years," Wilhelm says.

Benny To Have Graham As Guest

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Billy Graham, who has calmly faced millions in person and on television, is nervous—he's going to trade jokes with Jack Benny.
"And he's not half as nervous as I am," says Benny, who once had former President Harry S. Truman as a guest on his CBS-TV show.
Benny, who is Jewish, was on the platform with the evangelist last Sunday night when 134,254 people jammed Los Angeles Coliseum for the windup of the Graham crusade.
Dr. Graham will tape the show Friday for airing Sept. 24.
"I have been on all kinds of television programs but usually just as a guest being interviewed," says Graham. "I've never been a comedian before."
"When Jack asked me, I accepted because he is such a wonderful man, a man of great character who has given so much of his time and talent to make the world forget its troubles."
"I told him that I have been a fan of his since I was 5 years old—which is hard to do since I'm 44 and he's 39."
A sample of the dialogue between Benny and Graham:
Benny: "I was so nervous when I called you. But I guess you didn't detect it."
Graham: "Yes, I did."
Jack: How?"
Graham: "After the conversation, you reversed the charges."
Benny: "Well, I—I always do that."
Graham: "On a local call?"
Graham tells Benny he has always considered him a very fine violinist.
This so shakes up Benny that—for the first time in his long radio and television career—he admits that he is over 39.
"I'm really 47," quips Jack.
To which Graham counters:
"Jack, I'd suggest that you come to some of my meetings."

Success Predicted For Indiana Port

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Indiana will succeed in its efforts to construct a public port on Lake Michigan which will "open new doors to world trade and new markets for Indiana and Michigan business," Gov. Matthew E. Welsh predicted Wednesday at a University of Notre Dame seminar on the changing economic pattern for northern Indiana and southern Michigan.

Body Recovered

BANGOR (AP)—The body of Lee Danzy, 66, of Chicago, was recovered from Lake 14 east of Bangor in Van Buren County Wednesday. Danzy went fishing alone Tuesday and apparently drowned after his rowboat sprung a leak and sank. Friends in Hartford, Mich., where he had been visiting, reported him missing.

Whites Complain Negroes Getting Job Preference

AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—With Negro organizations and many federal, state and local governmental agencies pressing for a better break for Negro workers, hiring practices and contests for jobs have become an acute issue.
As a result of these pressures there have been some questions raised whether a reverse discrimination—against white workers—might develop.

An Associated Press survey of some of the nation's major industrial centers showed that more Negroes are being hired for better jobs but it also indicated there is no great rush to provide employment for them on the basis of race.
On the other hand, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, who heads President Kennedy's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity, said industry had exceeded expectations in providing more and better jobs for non-whites.

Whites Complain
Promotion of three Negroes to post office supervisory jobs, although they were lower than 53

white men on the established merit scale, set off a furor in Dallas.
Eleven high-ranking white postal workers filed suit against the Post Office Department, claiming they were discriminated against because of their race.

A Seattle employment agency operator reported two instances in the last month in which white workers complained they had lost their jobs because they had been replaced with Negroes.

Dudley Cameron, deputy area manager of the California Department of Employment in San Francisco, reported an increasing inclination to hire Negroes.

"One might say it is discrimination against whites," he said.
In New York City, two members of the City Commission on Human Rights suggested that racial bias in the building trades might be eased by favoring Negroes over white applicants for apprenticeship.

About 70 St. Louis area firms have made efforts since the first of this year to hire Negroes for the first time on jobs other than menial capacity. Negro leaders and employment experts said that there have been no complaints of discrimination in reverse.

The Michigan Fair Employment Practices Commission pointed out that employment quotas based on race would be against state law. It said it had processed a few reverse discrimination complaints several months ago.
Five big Chicago downtown banks invited the Chicago Urban League to help them recruit more Negro employees. Edwin C. Perry, executive director of the league, said the jobs range from page girl to management trainee.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward John Bawden (Daily Press Photo)

E. J. Bawdens Will Mark Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Edward John (Jack) Bawden of 306 S. 13th St., widely known long-time residents of Escanaba, whose golden wedding day is Monday, Sept. 16, will celebrate the happy occasion Sunday, Sept. 15.

An open house reception for all relatives and neighbors and friends of the couple will be held at the family home, 306 S. 13th St. from 3 to 6 p. m.

Mr. Bawden and the former Emma Marie Bernard were married Sept. 16, 1913, in the rectory of St. Joseph's Church in Escanaba by Father Marcelline. Their attendants were the late Ewald Beck and Mrs. Rose Beck, who now lives in Milwaukee.

Mr. Bawden, who was with the Upper Peninsula Power Co. at the time of their marriage, was foreman of the Service Department of the City of Escanaba 38 years, before his retirement 11 years ago.

Both are extremely active. Mr. Bawden devotes much of his leisure time to gardening and woodworking and to the affairs of Delta Lodge 195, F. & A. M., of which he has been a member many years. Mrs. Bawden, in addition to her duties as a homemaker, is a devout member of St. Joseph's Church and is prominent in parish projects and in her organizations, St. Joseph's Altar Society, Trinity Circle 362, Daughters of Isabella, and the Auxiliary to American Legion Cloverland Post 82.

They have three daughters, Ethel, now Mrs. James Henry, who is coming from Detroit for the anniversary, Jacqueline, who is Mrs. Vincent Rappette of Flat Rock, and Mildred, a member of the Escanaba City Police Department staff, at home. The family also includes six grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

BOARD FOR BORED

An adjustable ironing board placed by the bed will provide a counter upon which a sick child may work or play.

Country Club Bridge League Closes Season

The Escanaba Country Club Bridge League closed its regular season with a luncheon at the club house Wednesday afternoon, attended by 45 members and guests.

Theme of the attractive decorations was "The Last Rose of Summer," featuring a violin and large rose arrangement, with a tiny snowman holding a pink rose centering each table.

Winners in bridge were Mrs. Francis Furlong, first, Mrs. Stanley R. Venne, second, and Mrs. Claude B. Farrell, third.

Mrs. James Deignan, Mrs. Furlong, Mrs. William Shepeck and Mrs. Joan J. Cote were hostesses. Bridge chairman for the coming season will be Miss Kathleen Perkins and assisting chairman, Mrs. Richard Wolfe.

It was announced that there will be no extra dinner this season.

Golden Age Club Opens Season

The Golden Age Club opening meeting held Wednesday evening at Club 314 was marked by a large attendance and the admittance of several new members. Potluck dinner was served followed by a business session at which plans for entertainment during the fall season were made. Mrs. Harold McNaughton, president, presided at the meeting.

Home And School Opening Meeting At St. Joseph's

The St. Joseph's Home and School Club met last night for the first session of the school year. The following new officers assumed their duties: Marvin Marshall, president; Robert Schmit, 1st vice president; Marcel Guindon, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Lawrence Johnson, secretary; Mrs. John Dailey, treasurer.

Program Chairman Ruch introduced Wayne St. Pierre, physical social worker, who gave an interesting talk on the prevalence of indecent literature among the youth of our country. Mr. St. Pierre suggested that parents keep a watchful eye on the reading racks of the stores they patronize, and ask the proprietors to remove offensive literature found there.

Lunch was served by the 8th grade mothers, followed by a social hour and singing, led by Tom Quinn. The 7th grade mothers will be in charge of the lunch at the October meeting.

Cooking is Fun

COMPANY LUNCH
A group of herb-growing cooks introduced us to this delightful soup years ago, and we've treasured the recipe ever since.

Brooklyn Spinach Soup
Canadian Bacon with Scrambled Eggs
Tomatoes Stuffed with Green Peas
Buttered Hot Rolls

Fruit Cup Beverage
Brooklyn Spinach Soup
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
One-third cup minced onion
1/2 teaspoon minced garlic
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1/4 teaspoon each dried crumbled thyme, basil and marjoram
3 cups chicken stock
1 pound spinach, cooked and pureed
1 cup light cream
Salt to taste

In a saucepan melt the butter; add onion and garlic; cook gently until onion is wilted and golden. Add parsley, thyme, basil and marjoram, chicken stock and spinach; simmer for about 10 minutes; add salt to taste. Heat cream to the boiling point; pour into individual soup plates; pour spinach mixture over cream. Serve at once. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Homemaking Tips

Add a little mustard and Worcestershire sauce to mashed blue cheese and use as a filling for "stuffed" hamburgers. Men usually like this combination.

A crown roast of lamb deserves an elegant garnish. When you bring the roast to the table, place big pitted green olives (pimento stuffing removed) over the rib ends. Use the tiny strips of pimento you take out of the olives in a salad or as a garnish for some other dish.

When you are cutting the kernels from fresh uncooked cobs of corn, don't cut too deeply into the hulls.

Hard shell crabs should be alive when you buy them unless they are sold cooked and have been kept under refrigeration.

You can keep ice cream balls, rolled in coconut, in your freezer to have on hand for quack desserts. The ice cream and coconut combination is delicious served with chocolate sauce or such frozen sweetened fruits as raspberries, strawberries, peaches.

Club Opening Meeting Sept. 25

The date of the opening meeting of the Escanaba Woman's Club is Wednesday, Sept. 25, and it will be held at the Dells Supper Club. Members will be called for their reservations. Dues are to be paid at this meeting.

Variety Offered This Weekend In Supermarkets

By The Associated Press
Variety is the chief feature at the nation's supermarkets this weekend. Fruit and vegetable seasons overlap and all meat categories are in full supply at economical prices.

The only major item to show a general increase is eggs, which have risen a cent or two a dozen for most grades and sizes.

Lamb chops are a feature in the Midwest and many Northeastern markets also have lamb specials this weekend.

Pork attractions include loin roasts, chops, hams, sausage and bacon, with some store pushing spareribs for late cookouts.

Beef bargains lean toward roasts, with one national chain offering boneless roind roasts at 79 cents a pound. Ground beef is also widely featured and rib steaks are among Midwestern features.

The poultry lineup of small turkeys and fryers was joined this week in some regions by stewing hens.

Among vegetable offerings, a bumper onion crop commands attention.

Other top vegetable buys include corn, cabbage, cucumbers, lettuce, peppers, radishes, tomatoes and cauliflower.

Fruit attractions abound, with honeydew melons, cantaloup and watermelons still economically priced toward the end of their marketing season while apples, pears and grapefruit are beginning theirs.

Grapes are still the best fruit buy in most stores, thanks to the very heavy crop.

Garden

Constance Oeser Bride Of Dr. John R. LeMire

At home at 3623 N. Pulaski in Chicago after a honeymoon at Colorado Springs, are Dr. and Mrs. John Raymond LeMire, whose marriage took place Aug. 24 at 10 a. m. in Queen of All Saints Basilica, Chicago. The single ring ceremony was solemnized by Father Severin.

The bride is the former Constance Louise Oeser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Oeser of 4600 Lake Shore Road, Port Huron. Dr. LeMire's parents are Dr. and Mrs. William A. LeMire, 318 Lake Shore Drive, Escanaba.

The young newlyweds greeted over 300 guests at a reception at Hyatt House, Lincoln and Touhy, Chicago.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Ginter Schulz, and the bridal aides were Miss Denise Albertari, a cousin, Miss Joanna Oberst, Mrs. Mary Ann Constantine and Miss Lorraine Koschny. They wore sleeveless gowns of light pink silk organza over tulle with scoop necklines and A-shape silk organza coats with three-quarter length sleeves. Their hats were small pill box type with a small bow in back which matched the bow in front of the dresses. Pink shoes and white gloves completed their attire. Their flowers were colonial bouquets of pink sweetheart roses with blue and white accents.

The bride was gowned in ivory peau de soie, styled with scoop neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and a full length skirt with a cathedral train. A soft pleat from the left shoulder to the right side of the waist extended down the right side of the gown. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught to lace cap encrusted with seed pearls. She wore pearls, her bridegroom's gift, and she carried white orchids with stephanotis.

Dr. William LeMire was his brother's best man. Ushering were Dr. William Sullivan of Chicago, Michael Venne of Milwaukee, William Staudenmaier, Wauwatosa, and Donald Ryan, Chicago.

The bride's mother chose a yellow lace sheath and Mrs. LeMire's dress was muted shades of green. Their accessories were matching shades and their corsages were orchids.

The bride, a registered nurse, working in surgery, is a graduate of St. Scholastica High School and St. Joseph's School of Nursing where she received her degree in 1960. Dr. LeMire, who entered the University of Notre Dame following his graduation from Escanaba High School, is a 1962 graduate of Stritch School of Medicine, Loyola University, Chicago and has just started his four year residency at St. Joseph's in surgery. He is affiliated with Phi Sigma Chapter of Phi Chi, medical fraternity.

Still Need Good Five Cent Cigar

By HAL ROYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Some 50 years ago Thomas Riley Marshall made the most memorable remark ever to issue from the lips of a vice president of the United States.

"What this country needs is a good five-cent cigar," he said, learnedly.

Applause rang from one end of the nation to another. No American statesman ever had stated an economic fact more clearly. Half a century after he made his observation, it remains as true as ever.

No such applause, however, is likely to greet a landmark remark made this week by Vincent Pace, candidate for the presidency of the International Barbers Union.

What Pace said was, in effect, that what this country needs—if the barber is every going to make a decent wage—is a good $3 haircut. Or maybe even a $3.50 haircut.

Dismal though the prospect may be to the average pocket-book, it is likely that we will see the $3 haircut far sooner than we will the return of the five-cent stogie, a dream that has died in all but the stoutest hearts.

A shudder runs through the memories of all lovers of "the good old days" at the mere thought of forking over $3 or more a haircut.

Money, like people, is strong and confident in youth. But in middle and old age, money, like people, becomes feeble, less sure of itself, and suffers from poor circulation. It can't do what it used to.

The erosion in the value of

Ex-Ambassador Is Critical Of Aid Plan In Panama

WASHINGTON (AP)—Joseph S. Farland, resigning as ambassador to Panama, said today U.S. aid to Latin America would accomplish more if applied with greater concern for individual dignity and less for bureaucratic planning.

In an interview, Farland cited red tape, a lack of competent aid administration, excessive control from Washington and unduly grandiose planning among aid deficiencies he said he found in three years as U.S. envoy to Panama.

A spokesman for the Agency for International Development, which administers aid to Latin America through the Alliance for Progress program, disputed Farland's statements. He said no Panamanian aid project was undertaken "which did not have the complete and full approval of the ambassador."

Indignation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., who is up for re-election next year, admitted today he was jolted when he received a membership application blank from an organization for retired persons.

"If they send me another one," he vowed, "I'll have them investigated."

Kennedy Will Tour Wisconsin

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will visit northern Wisconsin as a part of his nationwide tour later this month on the conservation of natural resources, Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., said Wednesday.

The president will make a side trip into Wisconsin, Nelson said, in connection with a Sept. 25 visit to Duluth, Minn.

Kennedy is to address a three-state conference on the development of the northern Great Lakes area as a highlight of the Duluth conference Sept. 24-25.

Nelson said the details of Kennedy's visit to Wisconsin are still being worked out.

Plant Assured Of Utility Aid For Alpena Site

ALPENA (AP) — The Alpena City Council has assured directors of Universal Fluid Dynamics Co. that water and sewer service will be provided to their proposed M-32 plant site just inside the city limits.

Universal Fluid Dynamics was formed in the wake of a decision by Westinghouse Air Brake to move its Alpena cylinder manufacturing operations to Lexington, Ky., in early 1964.

Officials of the new firm have said they hope to equal or exceed Westinghouse's 100-job payroll.

Directors of the company are negotiating with Republic Steel on design, supply of material and construction of a 30,000-square-foot building by Nov. 15. It would be equipped and ready to produce by Jan. 15, 1964, company officials said.

Analog Computer Technique Taught

HOUGHTON—If two cars—one with shock absorbers and one without—are driven down a railroad track with the wheels on the wooden ties, how much more stress and strain would be placed on the car without shocks?

To the average motorist it's obvious that either vehicle would give a rough ride. To 12 professional students enrolled in a special conference at Michigan Tech it becomes a problem for the analog computer.

These 12 college teachers, from eight states and Canada, are enrolled in a three-week summer conference in analog computation. It is directed by Dr. Kenneth M. McMillin, professor of mathematics, under a $7,600 grant from the National Science Foundation. This is the fourth such conference the NSF has sponsored at Michigan Tech since 1959.

The analog computer is so named because it works with analogies, or simulations. Its great forte, says Dr. McMillin, is in the graphic solution of systems of simultaneous differential equations. This makes it invaluable as a laboratory simulator.

In addition, he says, basic analog computer facilities can be constructed for a relatively small investment. Although it has since been considerably expanded, the original analog computer lab at Michigan Tech was installed for a parts cost of less than $2,000.

To extend the computer's simulation to lecture room presentation, Tech has completed the installation of a low-cost closed circuit TV. Even this extension is not

Wayne Airport, Park Improvement Get Bond Approval

LANSING (AP) — Issuance of $33 million in revenue bonds by Wayne County to finance improvements to the Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport has been approved by the Municipal Finance Commission.

Main project will be a substantial terminal building expansion. The Conservation Department was given approval of issuance of $2.5 million in revenue bonds for continuation of its park improvement program.

beyond the capability of a limited college equipment budget, says Dr. McMillin.

The conference is designed to acquaint college teachers of mathematics, science and engineering with tried methods for the application of analog computer capability in solving problems.

Ann Arbor Park To Cost $400,000

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Ann Arbor will buy some 946 acres of land—most of it underwater—from the Detroit Edison Co. Sept. 20.

The city council approved the transaction this week, allowing the city to buy river banks and beds, four ponds, four dams and 136 acres of dry land. A 50-acre parcel will be converted into a park.

Of the $400,000 total cost, $120,000 will be paid by the federal government under a program aimed at helping cities acquire open space for recreation.

Naval Ships Coming Monday

Two Naval Reserve training ships are scheduled to come to Manistique harbor Monday enroute from Milwaukee on cruise.

About 50 men are to be aboard the Portage and the accompanying vessel. Arrangements are being made with the local fish and yacht fleet to provide anchor space in the harbor area. The boats will arrive at 4 p. m., Monday.

In activity this week, the Wyandotte Chemical Co., used the harbor to bring 5,000 tons of coal, of which 4,000 was for the paper mill. The vessel will return this fall with two more coal cargoes.

Tax Commission May Be Reduced To Single Member

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's three-member Tax Commission may be reduced to one after Friday if Commission Chairman Robert Eckhardt of Lansing leaves his job as his term expires.

Earlier, the commission was reduced to two when Ben Goldman of Ironwood retired July 1 after he reached 70. Both Goldman and Eckhardt are Democrats.

Robert Danhof, aide to Gov. George Romney, said Wednesday no decision had been reached on either appointment but a decision could be expected in a week, perhaps by Friday.

The one remaining commission member, R. Gerald Barr of Port Huron, is a Republican. State law provides that no more than two of the three commissioners shall be from one party.

Danhof said Eckhardt definitely was being considered for reappointment, but added the executive office was "on the fence" about the decision. He did not mention other possible appointees.

Iron Lung Flight Was Nip And Tuck

By AL SANDNER

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—The airplane passenger was a frightened 6-year-old woman being kept alive by an iron lung. With 900 miles to go, the batteries for the lung were failing.

It was the Sunday of Labor Day weekend and a University of Michigan medical team was flying patient Carol Kaufman from Mexico City to Ann Arbor in a twin-engine Beechcraft. News of the flight was revealed Wednesday.

"We had to do something fast, so we set down at Monroe, La.," said equipment engineer Gerald Horn. Only two batteries were left—one half dead and one in reserve for emergencies.

"We didn't have any idea where we were going to find any people—much less batteries," Horn said. "But then two young men working at the airport offered to trade us their car batteries. We got a third from a gas station owner in town. We are really wheeling and dealing there for a while, but we never thought to get their names."

"It was close. By the time we completed the deal, we were already using the emergency battery."

The tawny-haired, brown-eyed student of Spanish and Latin-American studies at Mexico City College was stricken with crippling polio last April.

She could not be moved until the disease passed its critical stage and her breathing pattern stabilized, said Dr. David Dickinson, head of the medical school's polio rehabilitation center.

Carol, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kaufman of Chicago, was taken to Ann Arbor because it is the closest respirator center to Chicago.

Jap Trade Pact With Reds Defended

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda today defended Japan's trade with Communist China.

"I fail to understand why so much fuss is made over our trade with Red China," he told newsmen.

"Our feet are planted in the free world and it is on the basis of that position that we are conducting trade with Red China on a purely commercial basis."

Fly Fishermen Fight Entry For Bait Fishermen

HOLLAND (AP)—Fly fishermen were expected to make a fight here today against the proposed opening of some of their favorite trout waters to the anglers who fish with bait.

Representatives of Trout Unlimited, a group of fly fishing devotees, had promised a last stand at the informal meeting of the Conservation Commission here today.

The department's Fish Division is recommending to the formal meeting Friday that experimental flies-only regulations on several sections of popular streams be lifted.

These include the north branch of the Au Sable, the little south branch of the Pere Marquette. And three quarters of a mile on the east branch of the Au Gres River in Iosco County.

Edward J. Farrell Takes Ishpeming Bride Saturday

Vases of autumnal colored mums graced the altar of St. John the Evangelist Church, Ishpeming, for the wedding of Elizabeth Frances Tassone to Edward John Farrell, Jr., Saturday, Sept. 7, at 10 a. m. Msgr. David Spelgatti officiated at the Nuptial High Mass for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno M. Tassone, of Ishpeming and the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Farrell, Sr., of 119 Fourth Ave., Gladstone.

Miss Patricia Collins, of Wilmette, Ill., life-long friend of the bride, and James M. Farrell, of Pulaski, Wis., brother of the groom, were the honor attendants. Bridesmaids were Mrs. James Simpson, Jr., Lexington, Mich., sister of the bride, and Dianne Farrell, sister of the groom. Charles R. Farrell, of Arlington, Va., and Arthur E. Dahlstrom, of Marquette, were groomsmen, and Con Lempenis, Steve Petros and Andrew Lempenis, all of Marquette, ushered.

Angela Tassone, of Ishpeming, niece of the bride, was the flower girl and Michael Marmalik, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer.

The bride wore a white broadcloth satin gown designed by Mme. Raymond in Nice, France. The full length skirt was styled with a straight front panel and full side panels which formed the train. The fitted bodice featured a jewel neckline and three quarter length sleeves. Her Dior veil was attached to a crown of seed pearls and she wore pearl earrings, her gift from the bridegroom.

Identical street length gowns of Champagne beige broadcloth satin designed with jewel necklines, short sleeves and full skirts were worn by the attendants. Their headpieces were beige veils attached to velvet rings and they carried Colonial bouquets of autumnal colored mums.

The tiny flower girls wore a bright yellow dress styled with a round neckline and puff sleeves.

A wedding breakfast for the wedding party and members of the immediate families was served at Kron-Dingfelder Hall and the reception, attended by about 500 persons, was held at the hall from 5 to 9 p. m.

The couple will reside at 200 Lake Shore Blvd., Marquette when they return from a wedding trip through the Copper Country.

The bride is a graduate of Ishpeming High School and the University of Michigan with B. A. and Mrs. Edward Farrell Jr.

M. S. degrees. She is employed as an assistant professor of speech at Northern Michigan University. The bridegroom is a graduate of Gladstone High School and Northern Michigan University and is a graduate student at the university.

Relatives and friends from Pulaski, Wis., Chicago, Two Rivers, Wis., Lexington, Mich., Marquette, Escanaba and Gladstone attended the wedding.

Korean Politics End In Fisticuffs

SEOUL (AP)—An attempt by feuding politicians to unite behind a single presidential candidate to oppose junta chief Chung Hee park ended today amid fisticuffs.

The Party of the People, an unprecedented attempt to get civilian politicians to work together, split into two factions. Each nominated a candidate for the Oct. 15 presidential election. The split apparently left the 45-year-old Park, candidate of the junta-backed Democratic Republican Party, without serious opposition.

Voice Of America Called Witchcraft

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—Since the Voice of America increased its transmitting power early this year, primitive villagers in the north have accused the U.S. agency of practicing witchcraft.

It seems that with the boost from 8,000 to 10,000 kilowatts, the stronger radio beams, especially after showers, are picked up by metal objects. This has made radios out of such things as bed springs, and even caused damp leaves to issue a sound resembling an eerie human whisper.

Dodgers, Cards Both Win; Lead Stays At Three

By MIKE RATHIET

Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals' Ray Sadecki and Ron Taylor combined for a five-hit, 4-0 job against the Chicago Cubs Wednesday night that kept second-place St. Louis three games behind the Los Angeles Dodgers with their third straight shutout.

The win extended the Cardinals' streak to five games while producing the 14th victory in the last 15 games.

While the Cardinals kept up the pressure, Maury Wills applied some for the Dodgers against Pittsburgh, stroking four hits, starting three rallies and driving in two runs as Los Angeles maintained its grip on the top spot by belting the Pirates 9-4.

In other NL action, Vada Pinson collected two homers, including his 1,000th major league hit, and Gordy Coleman hit a grand slam in Cincinnati's 14-3 thumping of Milwaukee, Houston's Dick Farrell four-hit Philadelphia 4-2 and the New York Mets defeated San Francisco 4-2.

The American League leading New York Yankees whipped Kansas City 8-2, Minnesota belted Cleveland 9-3, the Chicago White Sox edged Baltimore 3-2, Washington nipped Detroit 6-5 in 10 innings and the Los Angeles Angels defeated Boston 4-1.

Sadecki, 9-8, started against Cub ace Dick Ellsworth, 20-9, allowing only four hits in 5-2-3 innings, but was bothered by periodic wildness and Manager Johnny Keane decided to bring in Taylor. Taylor allowed only a single the rest of the way.

Wills led off the first and third innings for the Dodgers with singles and each time stole second and scored. Wills also drove in two of three Los Angeles runs in the fourth.

Don Drysdale started for the Dodgers but gave way to Pete Richert, who in turn needed Ron Perranoski's relief help. Richert, tagged for a homer by Smoky Burgess, got the victory for a 4-1 record. Bob Veale, 2-2, took the loss.

Jim Maloney won his 22nd game as the Reds pounded the Braves. The Mets got the job done against the Giants as Al Jackson pitched a seven-hitter and Tim Larkness cracked three singles.

Game Saturday:

Northern Opens Football Slate

MARQUETTE—Northern Michigan University will be seeking its 16th consecutive Memorial Field victory here Saturday at 1:30 p.m. when the Wildcats open their 1963 football season against the State College of Iowa.

Coach F. L. (Frosty) Ferzacca's squad hasn't lost a home game since it dropped the 1959 opener to Hillsdale, 29-20.

Seven of the 20 Upper Peninsula gridders on the NMU club appear to be in line for starting assignments: ends Bill Rademacher, Menominee, and Len St. Jean, Newberry; guards John LaPointe, Ishpeming, and Bob Kalfelisch, St. Ignace; center Mike Feldhusen, Munising; quarterback Stan Ferris, also of St. Ignace; and halfback Bob Erickson, Wakefield. Others expected to get starting offensive positions are: tackles Dick Dickinson, Mancelona; and Joe LaPorte, Fairview, Mass.; halfback Jim Fox, Mt. Pleasant; and fullback Don Bangert, Green Bay, Wis.

All are lettermen except Fox, a newcomer who rambed 127 yards in Northern's spring game.

Both Northern and SCI held game-type scrimmages Saturday and both coaches called the drills a fair showing. Iowa's coach Stan Sheriff, however, called the defensive play of his first unit the most pleasing phase of the Panthers' workout, while Ferzacca and his coaching staff voiced both praise and concern for the NMU defensive unit.

Sheriff, who brings a three-year 23-4-1 record to Northern, is expected to start an offensive line which will average 200 pounds and a defensive unit which will average considerably more.

Seeking their fourth straight North Central Conference championship, the Panthers are expected to run the I-formation, successfully used by Southern California, and installed by Sheriff this spring.

Last year SCI posted a 7-1-1 record while the Wildcats were 6-3. Iowa's only loss came at the hands of powerful Drake, 21-15.

The Great Lakes Conference football race will take early shape this weekend as two top contenders clash head-on at Gladstone.

Coach Don Pfothenauer's Braves, picking up where they left off last year in the scoring department, will entertain the Sault Ste. Marie Blue Devils Saturday afternoon.

Both teams are unbeaten in two starts to date and both have one Great Lakes victim to their credit. The Braves beat Norway in a non-conference opener and whipped Newberry in a GLC outing last weekend. Soo blanked Rudyard to open the season and trimmed Negaunee in league action last Friday night.

The Braves displayed power and depth in their 53-27 victory over Newberry. Pfothenauer's gridders were paced by speedy Dan Schram who ran for four touchdowns and tossed a pass for another. Mike Gobert, junior halfback, reached paydirt three times for the Braves. Gladstone was the highest scoring team in the Upper Peninsula last fall.

Sault Ste. Marie, coached by Adolph VanCitters, was co-champion of the Great Lakes Conference with Escanaba in 1962. The Blue Devils have scored 72 points in their two starts while holding Rudyard and Negaunee to a single touchdown.

Two other teams carry perfect records into this weekend's GLC action. Escanaba will be shooting for its third in a row at Stephenson Friday night and Munising will be in the same boat as host to the Ishpeming Hematites.

Other conference contests will have Manistiquie entertaining Marquette Friday night and Negaunee invading Newberry Saturday.

Perry On Taxi Team For 49ers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Joe "The Jet" Perry, professional football's all-time rushing leader, is back with the San Francisco 49ers—though only on a part-time basis.

Perry, released Wednesday by the Baltimore Colts, has signed with San Francisco as a "taxi" member.

"Taxis" are a genus of "red-shirt alumni," who do not hold regular spots on the roster, but who are brought up in case of injury to a regular player.

Tigers Blow Lead To Senators; Bow 6-5 In 10 Frames

WASHINGTON (AP) — The change from the five-hour to the three-hour work day didn't do a thing for the Detroit Tigers Wednesday night.

In five-hour doubleheaders Monday and Tuesday nights, the Tigers beat the Senators in three out of four games.

A three-hour single game Wednesday night was too much for them, though. They blew a four-run lead and Washington pulled out a 6-5 victory on Dick Phillips' 10th inning home run.

Washington's victory made the two clubs even for the season. Each has beaten the other seven times, despite Washington's last-place rank in the American League — 13 percentage points behind the first-place Tigers.

Washington got the first run on a double by Tom Brown and a single by Don Blasingame in the third inning. Dick McAuliffe made it 1-1 in the fourth with his 13th home run of the season.

The Tigers scored three runs in the fifth, two of them driven in by starting pitcher Bob Anderson with a single up the middle. Singles by Bubba Phillips and Mike Roarke and a throwing error on George Smith's sacrifice bunt brought in the other one.

Detroit's lead went to 3-1 in the sixth when Rocky Colavito doubled and scored on Dick Brown's single.

The Senators promptly made up the deficit in their half of the inning. Anderson, who had given up just four hits in the first five innings, departed after giving up a single and two walks, which led to one run.

Terry Fox came in to face a bases-loaded situation, partially caused by Norm Cash's error at first base.

Ed Brinkman greeted Fox with a two-run single and Don Zimmer

Coaches Report Few Injuries This Week

Football coaches at Escanaba, Holy Name and Manistiquie report their squads physically ready for weekend action, with relatively few injury problems.

At Manistiquie where Coach Dick Bonifas has his Emeralds back to fundamentals in blocking and tackling, only Fran Derwin is a doubtful starter against Marquette Friday night.

Derwin suffered a bruised chest and may not see action. Jerry Belleville, a sophomore halfback, has returned to practice after a bout with tonsillitis.

At Escanaba, Coach Jerry Cvenegros has two players on the injured list and quite a few with the sniffles after last Friday's game in the rain at Ishpeming.

Extra point kicker Jim Hansen has a knee injury and will be replaced by Bill Sarnowski who handles kickoff duties. Steve Johnson, 265 pound lineman, hurt his shoulder and may not play against Stephenson Friday night.

Coach Bill Earle at Holy Name faces what could be the most serious problem among the area mentors.

John Quinn, hard-running fullback, has a shoulder muscle injury. He will not see action on defense, Earle stated, but may be available on offense, depending on how the injury responds to treatment.

If Quinn is unable to go against Menominee Saturday night, Earle will use Bob Sullivan, 160 pound junior, at the fullback spot. Tom Meinze will have into a starting defensive spot.

All was well this week in the Gladstone cam pas Coach Don Pfothenauer's Braves geared for their Saturday afternoon home stand against the highly regarded Soo Blue Devils.

This weekend will mark the opening of the Wolverine Conference, an eight-team football league composed of Rock, Bark River-Harris, Powers-Spalding and Pembine. Powers hosts Bark River and defending champion Rock entertains Pembine Saturday afternoon.

At Stephenson, Coach Axel Anderson is reported searching for replacements for several hobbled players. The Eagles lost the services of Paul Dougovito in the season opener against Holy Name and several other players were banged up in the 30-0 loss to Kingsford last weekend.

Packers Acquire Jerry Norton For Defensive Unit

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Coach Allie Sherman stoutly maintains that his New York Giants are sound, in fact "we might have the best team in the last three years."

But the coach of the defending Eastern Division champions in the National Football League made a move that indicates he's far from overladen in talent going into the weekend opener against Baltimore.

Sherman, whose Giants won just two of five exhibition games, dropped Jim Pace, a halfback, from the roster Wednesday. That put the Giants one man under the 37-player roster limit.

"It will give us a little room to pick up a player elsewhere if we desire," Sherman explained.

Baltimore, which lost only once in five exhibitions—and that with Johnny Unitas out of action—is a slight favorite. Unitas sat out the final exhibition with a sore shoulder but is reported ready for full time action against the Giants.

The Green Bay Packers, defending league champions, are reported at full strength for their opener against the Chicago Bears. They bolstered their defensive secondary Wednesday with the acquisition of halfback Jerry Norton from Dallas. The Bears also are expected to be at full strength.

There is some doubt about San Francisco's troubled 49ers, however. John Brodie, their No. 1 quarterback, has an injured throwing arm and his status is undetermined for the opener against ambitious Minnesota.

The season opens with two Saturday night games, St. Louis at Dallas and Detroit at Los Angeles.

Sunday, New York is at Baltimore, Washington at Cleveland, Minnesota at San Francisco and Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.

The American Football League, in its second week of regular season play, has Boston at San Diego and Denver at Houston in Saturday night games and Buffalo at Oakland Sunday.

Mantle Is Back; Hits Homerun As Yanks Get Closer

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees are openly favoring the Los Angeles Dodgers for the National League flag in the battle with the St. Louis Cardinals.

They figure a World Series with the Dodgers will be worth some $6,000 a man more than one with the Cardinals. The arithmetic is simple. There are some 55,000 seats in O'Malley's house in Los Angeles, and all within naked eye distance of home plate are called boxes, at $12 a copy. St. Louis has only 30,000 seats, few in the $12 class.

The Yankees moved a step closer to their own annual American League pennant-clinching party by whipping the Kansas City Athletics 8-2 Wednesday night. Mickey Mantle snacked a three-run homer in the first inning and added a single and double. Whitey Ford won his 22nd game. Joe Pepitone also hit a two-run homer.

The second-place Minnesota Twins also won, 9-3, over Cleveland. That left the magic number at three.

In other AL action, the Chicago White Sox edged Baltimore 3-2, Washington trimmed Detroit 6-5 in 10 innings and Aubrey Gatewood pitched a four-hitter in his major league debut as the Los Angeles Angels defeated Boston 4-1.

In the National League, the Dodgers kept their three-game lead with a 9-4 victory over Pittsburgh, and the Cardinals kept pace with a 4-0 decision over the Chicago Cubs. Cincinnati crushed Milwaukee 14-3, Houston defeated Philadelphia 4-2 and the New York Mets trimmed the San Francisco Giants 4-2.

Harmon Killebrew hit his 38th homer—a grand slammer — and Earl Battey his 25th homer as Minnesota stayed one-half game ahead of the White Sox in their battle for second place.

Eddie Fisher went the distance for the White Sox against Baltimore, winning his eighth with a three-hitter. Dave Nicholson homered for the Sox. Camilo Carreon also homered.

Dick Phillips led off the 10th inning with his 10th homer for the Washington victory. Dick McAuliffe homered for the Tigers.

Gatewood, 25, a right-hander just up from Memphis, lost his shutout bid in the ninth when Dick Stuart tripled and scored on Russ Nixon's sacrifice fly.

Dustal Is Inked To Tiger Pact

DETROIT (AP) —The Detroit Tigers signed Alan Dustal, who has two brothers in professional baseball, and Dale Baker to 1964 minor league contract Wednesday.

Dustal, a third baseman-pitcher from South River, N.J., was signed to a contract with the Lakeland team in the Florida State League. His brother Bob pitched for Detroit and Syracuse in 1963. Andy, another Dustal brother, pitched in the Cincinnati organization.

Baker, a right-handed pitcher from Earlimart, Calif., was signed to a contract with Thomasville of the Georgia-Florida League.

Kalamazoo Is Rated Tops In Conference

By The Associated Press
Second of a two-part series on Michigan's small college football prospects.

Kalamazoo rumbled to the MIAA title with little trouble last year, so with the same nucleus it ought to be easier this year.

But it's never easy in the dog-eat-dog MIAA.

In pre-season estimates, Kalamazoo does look to be tops again. After all, Coach Rolla Anderson has his best passer, best receiver, two best linemen and two best runners back from last year's unbeaten championship club.

The Hornets were the state's only undefeated team—they start 1963 with a 12-game winning streak—and Anderson was selected as Michigan's College Coach of the year.

Top Passer Back

Among Kalamazoo's 17 returning lettermen are quarterback Jim Harkema, who passed for 1,010 yards; end John Persons, who caught 29 passes for 564 yards; tackle Bob Phillips and guard Bob Peters; and backs Ed Lauerman, who rushed for 553 yards, and Egils Lode, who rushed for 543 more.

"As I figure it," said Albion's Morley Fraser, "if someone can find a way to beat Kalamazoo one of these Saturdays, all six teams would have a chance for the championship."

Fraser's Albion club, champion two years ago and pre-season favorite last year, would seem to have the best chance of unseating Kalamazoo.

Albion has the MIAA's top center in Steve Richards and top backs in J. B. Elzy and Mike Hornus. Elzy was hurt much of last year, but if he returns to his 1961 form he'll be the best running back in the MIAA.

Back in the pack are Olivet, Hope, Adrian and Alma.

Olivet has been coming along in recent years under Stu Parsell, and he has perhaps the MIAA's most impressive player — 265-pound, 6-foot-5 George Pyne. He's enough to neutralize an opposing offense.

Larry Melendy again is expected to be Olivet's chief offensive threat.

Tied For Second

Last year Albion and Olivet tied for second behind Kalamazoo with Adrian, each a 3-2 in the conference. But otherwise Adrian had a tough time of it and hasn't had a winning season since 1948.

Chapoy Marvin, starting his second season at Adrian, has nine of his regulars back, which might be enough to get the Bulldogs above .500 at last. The line, led by Jim Dumont, has most of the experience, but the backfield is green and thin.

Hope, 3-6 a year ago, might be improved slightly. The Dutchmen of Russ De Vette has an experienced backfield led by Bill Keur and a high-scoring pass catching end in Bill Hultgren.

Alma didn't win a game last

Elliott Makes Two Changes

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's football team has a new first string right end and a new No. 1 fullback today.

Coach Bump Elliott Wednesday moved 6-foot-1, 195-pound sophomore Jeff Hoyne of Chicago into the right end spot in place of junior Bill Laskey of Milan.

Hoyne's pass catching is good and his blocking has improved since the start of fall practice, Elliott said.

Elliott moved senior Wayne Sparkman of Plymouth to fullback, replacing junior letterman Mel Anthony of Cincinnati, who had been No. 1 since the opening of practice.

Harris Beaten In Golf Play

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Sixteen golfers went into the first of two 18-hole rounds in the U.S. Amateur Golf championship today, but absent from the group was the defending champion, Larbor Harris Jr.

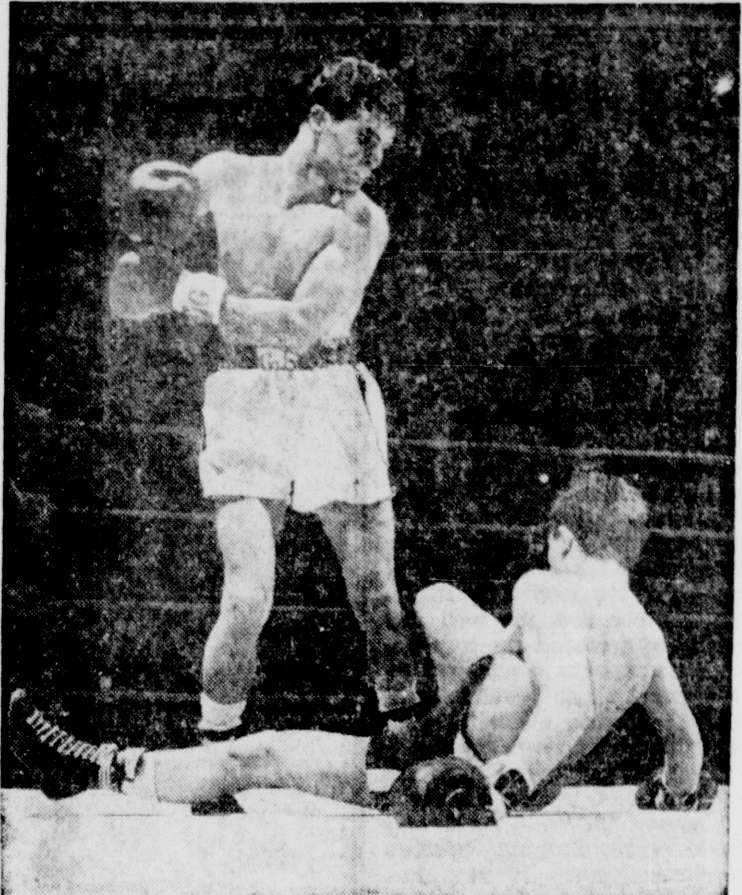

Harris was eliminated Wednesday by Walter Stahl of Cleveland, 2 and 1.

Billy Joe Patton, another veteran of amateur international golf, was knocked out of contention by Bob Greenwood of North Texas State.

In today's fifth round over the 6,896-yard par 72 Wakonda Club Course, Bill Campbell, 40, of Huntington, W. Va., meets John Owens, 36, of Lexington, Ky. It is Campbell's 20th time in the National Amateur.

John Lotz, 22, of San Jose State meets George Archer, 23, of the Gilroy, Calif., cowpoke; Dr. Phillip Olson of Minneapolis plays Steve Spray, 22, of Indiana.

Iowa's 1960 king Deane Beman goes against Barry Meerdink, 23, of Muscatine, Iowa; Stahl against Southern California's U.S. Davis Stockton; Ed Tutwiler of Charleston, W. Va., against NCAA champ Dick Sikes of Arkansas; two-time winner Charlie Coe against Texas U.S. Jimmy Thompson; and Ross Mitchell of Lubbock, Tex., against Dick Guardiola of Cleveland.

Spartans Have Lost Weight

EAST LANSING (AP) — The scales proved Tuesday what Duff Daugherty has been saying all along — the Michigan State football team lost a lot of weight as well as manpower since last fall. The official weigh-in showed the first string line averaging out at 209 pounds per man. This is 23 pounds lighter than the 232-pound average of last season.

Heaviest man in the line is tackle Dave Herman at 239 pounds. Lightest are guard Steve Mellinger and center Don Ross, both 194 pounds.

Many a high school has a heavier backfield than the one Daugherty will field this fall. The first string has fullback Dewey Lincoln at 181 pounds, left half Sherman Lewis at 152 and right half Ron

Elliott Optimistic At Michigan Drills

By JERRY GREEN

DETROIT (AP)—Strange things are going on at Michigan. Bump Elliott not only is smiling, he's exuding optimism.

Such actions by the Michigan football coach are mighty rare. And when they come following a distasteful 2-7 season and a cellar finish in the Big Ten, they're amazing.

There are two reasons for Elliott's brimming confidence. He has the best crop of sophomores in his five seasons as Michigan's head coach. And the Wolverines are over their defeatist complex that seemed to add to their troubles when things got bad last season.

"To say that we're going to be a championship team would be wrong," said Elliott Wednesday to the Detroit Sports Broadcasters Association. "But anytime we play a game, I seriously think we can win it. On the other hand, it would be foolish to go out on a limb and say we'll be a contender."

Elliott then started crawling part way out on the limb by listing the team's plus factors.

"We have a large number of lettermen," he said. "But they played on a losing team and if they're used to being losers we don't want any part of them. The ones we want are those who improve."

"The key to our optimism is our sophomores. We expect to have 12 sophomores on our 1st three clubs

Spokane Takes Playoff Lead

SPOKANE (AP)—Third baseman John Werhas lofted a pair of long fly balls to center field Wednesday night to give the Spokane Indians a 3-2 edge over the Oklahoma City 89ers.

The decision evened up the best-of-seven series for the Pacific Coast League baseball championship at one game each.

Werhas brought home the winning run in the bottom of the ninth with a blast that arched 370 feet and fell in the ground while the helpless 89ers looked on. They saved themselves the trouble of trying to catch it because with the bases loaded and only one out the run would have scored anyhow.

and seven or eight of them will be on the first two teams.

"Our sophomores give us lack of experience. But these are better football days than we had last year."

"Our optimism also stems from our depth. We don't have any superstars. But we have a lot of good solid players. They block better and they're better defensive players."

"This is a club that has to jell as it goes on."

Bill Yearby, Tom Cecchini, Jack Clancy and Dick Wells currently are sophomores on the first eleven.

"Yearby is a good tough tackle and he's a starter," said Elliott. "The other tackle is Tom Keating and he's our best football player if he's right as I feel he will be this year. With Yearby this will be the first time we've had two solid tackles since I've been coach."

"Cecchini will be our center. He plays only to win and has taken over ahead of two or three lettermen."

"Our top two linebackers on each side are sophomores. Clancy is No. 1 at left half with John Rowser behind him. Wells is ahead at right half with Bob Quist running second team. These two men have got to pick up our slack at right half."

"With the new substitution rules, I hope to have two clubs of capable men who can go either way. Then I'd like to have some more specialty men for spotting on offense and defense."

It's been quite a while since a Michigan football coach has been so happy in mid-September.

Spahn Got Late Pitching Start At Age Of 25

NEW YORK (AP)—On the night of June 17, 1946, Dizzy Dean, while broadcasting the Red Sox-Browns game in St. Louis, informed his listeners that the Cardinals were ahead in their night game in Boston. "Spahn is now pitching for the Braves," said Dizzy and then added, "Who in the world is Spahn?"

Then 25 years old, Spahn, home from overseas where he had served more than three years, was making his first appearance of the season for the Braves. Four years before he had made his first appearance ever for the Braves. Casey Stengel was the manager.

This is the same Spahn whom youngsters regard as a model and oldsters regard as a self image. Youngsters play baseball because of what happened to Spahn. They dream it would happen to them. He grew up poor. He signed his first baseball contract at $80 a month. Today, he pulls down $75,000 a year, not including the money he gets from endorsements, commercials and occasional appearances on television and radio.

Born of parents of moderate means in Buffalo, Spahn today owns a 2,200 acre ranch in Hartshorne, Okla. roamed by 800 white faces hereofers. He has oil stock and real estate. His most valued possession, however, is his indestructible left arm.

"I guess I've been blessed with an exceptional arm, at that," the 42-year-old wonder pitcher acknowledged. "I take care of it but I've never babied it."

How well Spahn has taken care of that precious left arm is attested by his incredible durability which has carried him through 18 big league seasons, over 600 starts, nearly 5,000 innings, 347 triumphs and 13 20-game winning seasons.

When Spahn defeated Philadelphia 3-2 Sunday for his 20th victory in 25 decisions, he became the first pitcher in baseball history to reach the 20-victory mark at the age of 42. Cy Young, the only pitcher to register more 20-game winning seasons than Spahn, won 19 at 42 in 1909. Grover Alexander won nine at that age. Dazzy Vance six, Ed Plank five and Ted Lyons 14. All the remaining greats including Hall of Famers Walter Johnson, Christy Mathewson, Charles Kid Nichols, Hoss Radbourne, Lefty Grove, Dizzy Dean and Carl Hubbell were long gone from the scene at 42.

Ask Spahn what keeps him going and he laughs and tells you, "the money."

He him down and he tells you: "Baseball is not only my bread and butter, it's my life. What is life, after all, but a challenge between two men. By the same token, what better challenge can there be in baseball than one between pitcher and hitter. It's a never ending duel. That's why I'm a pitcher. I live on competition."

Yanks Lost Mick But Won Pennant

NEW YORK (AP)—The record books will say the New York Yankees won the 1963 American League pennant in mid-September but manager Ralph Houk and his players know better.

The championship was won one June afternoon shortly after the crippling injury to Mickey Mantle that sidelined the Yankee club leader for most of the remainder of the season.

The club was then in third place.

The next day Houk called a meeting. A member of the Yankee family revealed what took place at this closed door session.

"This scared talk has got to stop," Houk was quoted as saying. "I am as concerned about Mantle's injury as much as any of you but I say we're strong enough to win without him."

"No one appreciates more than I do what Mickey means to us but this is not a one-man team.

Every one of you is a vital part of this club. Mick's absence merely gives you a chance to prove it.

"I don't say it will be easy—no club can lose a Mantle and not feel it—but we're a heck of a lot better than any of the other clubs even without him."

The Yankee manager went down the line, addressing each player individually, pitting each against his counterpart on the Yankees' chief rivals.

"You're all the best at your positions," Houk flatly concluded.

For several seconds there was no answer. Then the quiet was broken by left-hander Whitey Ford.

"Let's go, guys," he shouted. "What are we waiting for? We've got work to do."

That was the answer Houk wanted. The Yankees, with Ford pitching, whipped Detroit that night and went on to win 10 of their next 11.

Prisoners To Aid Medical Research

JACKSON (AP) — Construction is under way at Southern Michigan Prison on two buildings to be used in a medical research program conducted by two pharmaceutical houses and aided by convict volunteers.

The Upjohn Co. of Kalamazoo is paying for one of the buildings, expected to cost in the vicinity of $250,000 and contain equipment valued at from $30,000 to $40,000. Parke, Davis & Co. of Detroit will pay for the second building, expected to cost approximately $255,000, including equipment.

Title to both buildings will be held by the state, which agreed to the condition that the use of prisoners in drug research programs will be restricted to Upjohn and Parke, Davis.

Gus Harrison, director of the Corrections Department, said safeguards similar to those which exist in inmate drug programs now conducted by the two firms will be continued.

Both projects required Corrections Commission approval. Harrison said a committee representing the state's medical schools will be selected to screen all drug studies in which inmates participate and the Corrections Department will have the right to approve or disapprove proposed studies.

"We want to protect inmates as much as possible and yet help in the discovery of new drugs and further development of old ones," Harrison said. "Inmates enjoy participating in the programs for their contributions to mankind as much as the money they receive for doing it."

Upjohn said its research will revolve around antibiotics, hormones, and drugs to relieve mental disease, high blood pressure, ulcers and diabetes.

Chicago Bans Discrimination In Property Dealings

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago City Council has adopted an ordinance forbidding racial or religious discrimination by real estate brokers in the sale of property despite a massive protest by white property owners.

The bill was passed by the City Council Wednesday, a few hours after 4,000 white property owners marched on City Hall in protest.

Apportionment Board To Get Funds, Authority

LANSING (AP) — A bill to give legal status and $38,000 in operating funds to the temporary commission on legislative apportionment was expected to move swiftly through the legislature today.

With the rules that ordinarily determine time limits on the processing of bills suspended for the special session, there was a chance the proposal would be enacted before lawmakers begin an 11-day recess.

The bill, sought by Gov. George Romney in a brief special message, went to the House Ways Means Committee, whose members indicated returning it to the floor would be a matter of routine.

The bi-partisan commission on legislative apportionment is at work, but lacks legal status and operating funds to do the job until Feb. 1, 1964, when it will become an official body under the new Constitution.

The recess after Romney's special message on tax reform today will last until Sept. 24. Lawmakers will return on that date to buckle down to the issues of tax reform.

Tourist Health Service Expands

Dr. Mary L. Cretens, director of the Delta-Menominee District Health Department, said that due to the increasing number of tourists and the number of local citizens using tourist facilities this year, a more intensified environmental health program has been completed.

An inspection of all motels and tourist cabins in Delta and Menominee counties was made. Water samples were taken at all places using a private well and unsafe water was checked, the well disinfected and a second check made.

Delta County has a total of 134 motels and tourist cabins and Menominee County a total of 42. Over 225 wells serving tourists and local citizens were checked. Also a sanitation survey was made in all county and state parks and roadside parks. Bathing beaches were checked every 10 days during the swimming season and a sample of the beach water taken. There were very few cases of swimmers' itch reported this year.

All food establishments in Delta and Menominee Counties were licensed by the Delta-Menominee District Health Department, an inspection made and swab tests on dishes taken to determine the cleanliness of dishes and silverware. The over all results of these tests were good.

It will be the policy of Delta-Menominee Health Department to continue a program of environmental sanitation that will give adequate protection to the public in this field, said Dr. Cretens.

Bar Proposes School Til 17

LANSING (AP) — A committee of the State Bar of Michigan proposed today that the compulsory age for school attendance be raised from 16 to 17 years as part of a "bold attack" on the dropout problem.

In a report slated for action at the state bar meeting Sept. 26, the committee said school dropouts may be the top domestic problem in the U. S. today.

It said increasing the minimum age for leaving high school to 17 would carry most students through the 11th grade and "it is reasonable to believe most would follow the short path through to graduation."

The committee on juvenile problems, headed by Probate Judge Mary Coleman of Calhoun County, also recommended:

—Establishment of so-called "halfway houses" for intermediate rehabilitation of parolees from state training schools, with funds provided by the legislature.

—State bar support of legislation to establish CCC-type youth camps for non-delinquent dropouts, a state-supported job upgrading program for youth, and a program of job training and employment in public service for dropouts.

—A state-operated central reporting system for doctors, hospitals and police to use in reporting cases of known or suspected mistreatment of children by their parents.

SPARTA (AP) — Some 700 orchardists and guests, including Gov. and Mrs. George Romney, were urged here Tuesday to give "reasonable and realistic concern" to the pesticide situation in agriculture.
